A Vote For Guaranteed Wage

There's something intriguing about the $80-a-week "guaranteed wage" that has become part of the new philosophy of the Americans for Democratic Action.

The $80 weekly give-away has very few strings attached. It would be tax-free, delivered regularly, and require only that the recipient have a family of four. The latter requirement would be a matter of small amount for those who don't have to get up to go to work.

There are those in ADA and elsewhere who argue that $80 isn't much of an income in these days of inflation. But $80 tax-free represents a much higher gross pay. Those who are still working should take a look at the various deductions made on this week's paycheck. Surprisingly large amount is deducted, isn't it?

Another benefit is the savings on transportation costs. No cost of traveling back and forth to work. Gasoline, parking, repair and upkeep money is saved. That's not an inconsequential amount, is it?

A person who doesn't work doesn't need work clothes or tools. Not a big savings, but many are paying these costs today.

And no union dues. Some former workers would even be pleased to know that they are no longer supporting union goons and crooks who have made court news during the past few years. Of course there's always the danger of starting the cycle over again if the "guaranteed wage" proponents succeed in starting a welfare union they've been talking about.

Supposing the welfare union is organized. It is a cinch that the officers will go to bat for increased income right away including time and a half for overtime. Overtime from what, we're not sure.

But the welfare union would be the biggest, most powerful union yet because members of employment-type unions would be losing members to the non-employment type. There just wouldn't be any members left for CIO, AFL, UAW and other unions.

Where is the guaranteed wage money coming from? Our president once said that it is merely a matter of taking from the haves and giving to the have-nots. It suggests that the guaranteed wage operation would be started with a big kitty consisting of funds taken from all the rich folks — including L. B. Johnson. Eventually the bite will up working stiff's like you and your neighbor, as well as Hubert Humphrey and the ADA he helped spawn.

Having written this, the $80 tax-free and the working tool savings that go with it looks pretty good. A quick estimate makes it appear that the recipient would be getting the equivalent of $145 a week without working a lick for it.

One disturbing thought keeps recurring. When the total number of souls guaranteed wage becomes so large that there isn't enough tax money to pay the bill, where will the money come from?

You guessed it, friend. They'll pass a guaranteed wage tax! Then the welfare wage recipient will go back to work to earn enough to generate taxes to pay the bill for the guaranteed wage requirements.

Any way you look at it, you're going to have to work harder to get paid for not working!

Political Machine Strength Revealed

One of the candidates for the Board of Supervisors in the Third District had a brilliant idea.

Immediately after the election, in which a general election run-off is required, he got in touch with Art Akers, the loser. Akers garnered 12 per cent of the vote with Bob Dent the high vote-getter, followed closely by Henry Schiedle.

Akers, so the story goes, agreed to turn over to the candidate all of his organizational machinery, including the fund raising committee. Akers had run for Sheriff in 1964 and for City Council in 1967 which indicated a well knit organization. "But I won't do any of the work myself," Akers warned.

The candidate's pleasure turned to puzzlement this week when he called on Akers to deliver.

Akers told him his campaign expenses amounted to $270, most of which he paid out of his own pocket. — And the election machinery? One guy! Art Akers, himself.

"Twelve per cent of the total of $270 and my own effort is pretty good, I think. Four more workers like me and I would have won in the primary," Akers said.

Not All Are Anti-de Gaulle

C. C. Mosley, president of the Grand Central Industrial Center has been taking a dim view of the state of the nation and the world for many months and has passed his opinion on to us and other newsgatherers frequently during this time.

Recently, he called our attention to the Congressional Record in which there is a statement by Joseph M. Bowman, assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury. It is the first contemplation of the French posture in the fiscal world that did not lambast de Gaulle.

Says Bowman,

"The French have an excellent record in regard to the repayment of their World War II and postwar obligations to the United States. France, which received credits totaling approximately $2.4 billion during this period, has not only been servicing its regularly scheduled payments but has made payments in advance of due dates of more than $880 million. These prepayments, together with the scheduled payments, have reduced French World War II and postwar obligations to roughly $300 million."

Mosley adds:

"To find a scapegoat, it is now popular to claim de Gaulle is ruining the dollar, which is not true.

"The U. S. Congress bear the responsibility for reducing the U. S. dollar to its present state of weakness by overspending for years. President de Gaulle has been strengthening the French franc, while Britain and the U.S.A. — and others — have been following an inexorable opposite course."

School Board OK's Huge Deficit Budget

Deficit Funding Necessary

by Jack Pollard

The Grossmont Union High School District is feeling the pinch of "tight money" as the problems of financing the 1968-69 school year move into a "critical" state according to Dr. John T. Warburton, superintendent of the district.

The statement came Monday night after a Board meeting. Warburton said that the taxpayers in the district face an increase of 50c in order to keep the district schools open.

The critical money problem became acute when the board passed a preliminary budget in the amount of $15,022,965. The publication budget will be adopted by July 15.

In the budget, the Board raised summer school certificated salaries by $87 and appropriated $600,000 for certificated and classified salary increases.

This amount is the equivalent of what is necessary for cost of living increases for all payroll personnel.

The new budget reveals an increase of $265,844 for the new school year. The budget will have $1,262,960 more in income in 1968-69 than the past school year budget had.

The increase is the result of additional State money for both regular students and adults. A 5% increase in enrollment for 1968-69 will bring the increase in revenues.

The new budget will report a 20% loss from Public Law 874 due to the failure of the Congress to restore full funding. The Federal impact funds have been cut by about $80,000.

Continuing increases in the budget result from the impact of salary increments for certificated and classified personnel, along with a 4% inflationary spiral observable in purchasing.

The raise approved in the preliminary budget last night is far short of the amount requested by the staff.

Others are: Karleen Crawford, winner of a James Hall College of Beauty Scholarship; Brenda Davis, who won the University of California at Berkeley Alumni Scholarship; Honors at Entrance to Berkeley, and the Westinghouse Talents Search Award; and Adrienne Cohen, who won Honors at Entrance to the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Operating in Red The budget will have to operate in the red for the new school year in the amount of $383,051. Warburton said that

Food Surplus Gets Initial Budget 'Yes'

The San Diego County Board of Supervisors has given its stamp of approval to a $100,000 budget item for the Food Surplus program to feed the needy in this county.

The program will allow the county to receive free food items from the Department of Agriculture that are made available as surplus commodities and foods.

What the county will have to do is to pay for the administrative costs of the program. They will also have to pay the costs of transportation of food to San Diego.

The program has no specific Congressional mandate for procedures of distribution of the food. It has been estimated earlier that the program would cost at least $138,000 for administrative costs.

Henry C. Boney, head of the Board of Supervisors, said that he does not anticipate any tax increase in the 1968-69 tax year.

the district is going to have to call for a tax override of an additional 58c to cover "bare costs" of the overdraw.

Warburton said, "This school district has got to spend another $1.50 to $2 (on the tax rate) over what we have now if it is going to do the kind of job it should."

The state allows a school district to tax residents for 75c per $100 of assessed valuation. Currently the district is allowed to tax in the amount of $1.50 per $100.

Residents in the school district will have to vote for the tax override or the district will have to cut special programs.

It is expected that with the growth of the district, by the 1973-74 school year the tax rate will have to be set at $2.74 per $100 to meet absolute operational costs.

Warburton said that the district is currently spending $110 less for each student than the average in California.

It was stated that the budget could have been funded for a surplus of $479,362 if the Board were willing to levy a 4c recreational tax.

In additional action, the Governing Board heard and approved a report from the Assistant Superintendent regarding Faculty Senate proposals for instructional improvement.

Approved the final working drawings for the new construction at Monte Vista High School.

Awarded the bid for new construction at Helix and Mt. Miguel High Schools to White-Shirley-Wark Construction Co., the lowest bidder meeting specifications.

Awarded the milk bid in accordance with District policy, as follows: service for Mt. Miguel High School awarded to Miller Dairy and all other schools of the District awarded to Golden Arrow Dairy.

Approved an application for Title I funds for a Proposed Learning Center Plan for 1968-69.

Scheduled the organizational meeting for Monday, July 1, 1968, at 7 p.m., in the District board room, at which time regular items of business will also be considered.

Approved the holding of a tax override election in conjunction with the general election on November 5, 1968.

Dr. Austin Sellery, who has been hired to replace Warburton as superintendent attended the Board meeting. Sellery is currently superintendent of schools at Palm Springs.

Short Drive To Disaster

Pat Grace said his profit — if there was to be any in June — was wiped out in a short drive this week.

John Bruns, a salesman for Pat Grace Ford, was parking a Mercury sedan in the Grace used car lot.

As he began to park the accelerator stuck; the Mercury lurched across the used car lot and directly into the back of a Rambler, which hit a Ford station wagon.

The Mercury then careened into a Ford Galaxie hard-top.

Time elapsed 10 seconds. Cost of repairs $2,000 and six aspirin tablets for Grace.

Sheriff's Deputies Lead Wild Chase After Speeding Cyclist

Sheriff's deputies took part in a wild 12 mile chase after a motorcyclist that included the firing of six shots around 2:32 a.m. Friday, June 14.

The chase began on Broadway in Lemon Grove when deputies saw Jack Duane Heskett, 33, of 4206 Olive St., La Mesa speeding down the main street.

The chase resulted in his arrest after a sheriff's department car and the motorcycle skidded off of Sweetwater rd., about a quarter mile south of the South Bay Freeway.

Investigators said that one car was forced off the road near Blossom Ln. and that the motorcyclist sped between two cars north of Jamacha rd., and that another car was forced off of the road later during the chase.

Heskett was taken to Grossmont Hospital for examination and then booked in county jail on suspicion of reckless driving, speeding, traveling in the wrong lane, failure to heed red lights and siren and three counts of running red lights.

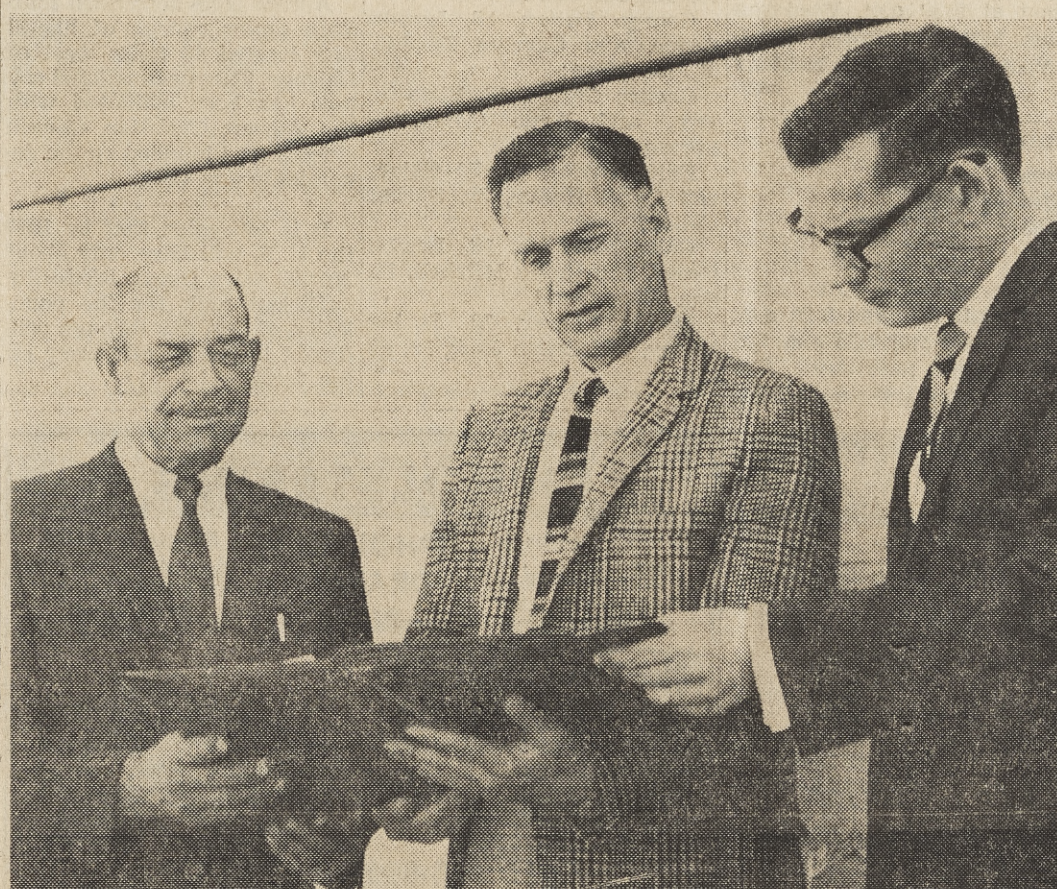

The deputies, Joseph Bingham and Ronald Parker both escaped injuries when their car went off the road. Both the patrol car and the motorcycle made one curve but failed to make another.

Heskett was thrown clear of his bike as both vehicles landed in a ditch.

Officials said that they saw the cyclist traveling on Broadway at 70 miles an hour, in a 35-mile zone. The deputies tried to stop him with flashing red lights and siren. Portions of the chase reached speeds up to 90 mph.

Heskett was released on bail from the county jail and has been ordered to appear tomorrow for arraignment in El Cajon Municipal Court.

ROTARY PREXY — E. A. "Molly" Mouillesseaux, left, goes over plans for the coming Rotary year with retiring president John Penery, center, and Howard Levinson, as officers change for the 1968-69 year. Mouillesseaux, a service station owner, was installed as president earlier this month at the annual Rotary banquet by Penery who is president and executive director of the Inter American Education Foundation. Levinson, right, a stock broker, becomes vice-president. Rotary meets each Monday at noon at the Bowlero.

Methodist Minister, Lay Leader Attend Regional Church Conference

The Rev. Fred Stratheide of the Lemon Grove Methodist Church is attending the United Methodist Church regional annual convention at the University of Redlands.

Also attending the conference from Lemon Grove is Grady Martin of 2330 Lawton

dr. Martin is a lay leader in the congregation.

The event is the 118th session of the Southern California-Arizona Conference of the denomination, which also includes southern Nevada and Hawaii. Some 500 churches with membership totaling 270,000 will be represented in the sessions which started Monday afternoon and will conclude Friday night.

The conference will be a shortened, five-day meeting, compared with the seven-day sessions which have been traditional since 1945. Bishop Gerald Kennedy, of Los Angeles, will preside.

Among major issues facing the delegates will be statements of position and calls for action on these subjects:

Poverty and racial crisis — A decision on the Conference's participation in the United Methodist Fund for Reconciliation throughout the nation. This Fund was ordered by the church's recent General Conference in Dallas, and calls for $20,000,000 to be spent in the next four years.

Selective Service — clarifying the church's position on those who refuse to report for induction or who demonstrate against the draft in the Vietnam war as well as all wars.

Marijuana — shall the church support new laws or greater latitude in dealing with marijuana offenders?

Ethnic ministries — are new policies needed on denominational support to churches and ministers who serve primarily ethnic congregations?

Fair Employment Practices — including a proposal to withhold denomination funds from churches and church-related institutions that do not actively pursue equal employment policies.

Campus ministry — action on recommendations to make United Methodist work among college students more ecumenical, regional instead of single-campus, and more closely tied to local congregations and their laity.

Low-rent housing — action on a request for church "seed money" to help start low-rent housing projects.

Other highlights of the sessions include three speeches by Dr. Charles W. Ranson, professor of ecumenical theology at Drew University, Madison, N.J., and daily sermons by Bishop Kennedy.

The Conference members also will be asked to act on a proposed 3.05 per cent increase in its budget for 1968-69.

This will be the first session of the Southern California-Arizona Conference following merger of The Methodist Church and the Evangelical United Brethren Church. Actual merger in this area of the two ruling bodies is not expected before 1969, however, so that the 27 former EUB churches will not be represented at the Redlands sessions.

Immediately after an ordination service Friday night, Bishop Kennedy will close the conference sessions by reading the list of appointments of ministers to local churches for the coming year. A larger-than-usual turnover of ministers is expected this year.

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service will hold their sessions separately on Thursday when the conference will be in executive session. Missing from this year's program, because of the abbreviated schedule, will be special events for youth and laymen which have been held on Saturday in past years.

For a while the church was without a pastor and Rev. Charles Talley filled the pulpit at that time.

To help celebrate the 20th anniversary, Rev. Nichols was here from the Los Angeles area, and Rev. Taylor (and family), from Denver, Colo. Rev. Nichols brought a message in the morning and Rev. Taylor at the evening service.

This followed a potluck supper held in the church social hall for the congregation and friends. Rev. Taylor showed slides of a trip he and his family had taken in the Holy Land. He enhanced the showing by singing several sacred songs.

CONRAD LEMON GROVE MORTUARY

president; Mrs. Milan E. Young, incoming president and Mrs. George W. Jenkins as vice president. The Lemon Grove Lioness Club is celebrating its fifteenth anniversary this month. The following three charter members have completed fifteen years of perfect attendance at Lioness meetings: Mrs. Walir P. Wood and Mrs. Dorothy Lover of Lemon Grove, and Mrs. Forrest C. Baxter of El Cajon, formerly of Lemon Grove.

Heartland Campfire Girls

The Camp Fire Girls Supporting Membership drive neared 50 per cent of its $7,000 goal recently, with 100 Camp Fire dads still working to meet the goal.

The local girls organization, a member of United Community Services, is seeking the supporting membership funds to offset the difference between its operating budget and its UCS allocation, according to Calvin H. Flynn, co-chairman of the drive.

"The committee is aiming for $12 from Camp Fire families," Flynn said. "If we could get this amount from most of our families, we would surpass our goal," he said.

The drive is being conducted by a pyramid structure of workers. Co-chairmen are Wilis Fletcher and Flynn. Special gifts chairman is George Hearn. Each of the council's seven districts recruited families to contact other families in the organization. Special gifts are also being sought from friends of the program.

AREA BIRTHS

Area births as recorded at the Grossmont Hospital for the period of June 6-11 are as follows:

June 8: To Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Bodenstadt of Lemon Grove, a boy, 7 lbs., 8½ ozs.
June 11: To Mr. and Mrs. Dennis R. Hixon, sr., of Lemon Grove, a boy, 8 lbs.; to Mr. and Mrs. John H. McConnell of Lemon Grove, a girl, 7 lbs., 5¼ ozs., and to Mr. and Mrs. James B. McCombs, jr., of Lemon Grove, a boy, 7 lbs., 13 ozs.

Heart Memorials Gifts Are Made

During May, 480 memorial gifts, totaling $3,523.43, were received by the San Diego County Heart Association, according to Steve Oberg, Memorial Gifts chairman.

"The memorial gift tells in a tangible and quiet way that the donor joins the bereaved family in honoring the deceased by helping the living. Memorial gifts are used exclusively to fight this major killer, heart disease," said Oberg.

The persons remembered in the Lemon Grove area are: Mrs. E. J. Brundage, 2502 Skyline dr.; Raymond W. Carr, 2265 Berry st.; Walter Denlinger, 8256 Adams; Rudolph J. Pelosi, 6620 MacArthur dr., and Ralph W. Tresser, 2544 Washington st.

"Many families have sent us expressions of gratitude that their loved ones could be remembered in this way," Oberg said.

District Adult Teacher Honored At Reception

A reception honoring Mrs. Edith Boutwell Procter, creative writing teacher of Grossmont Union High School District Adult Education, was held June 6 at Porter Hall, La Mesa.

Sponsored by Mrs. Procter's 1968 class, over 200 of her students, former students and friends paid their respects. Her retirement took effect the last of May, after 15 years with the District.

Coming to California from New Hampshire in 1945, Mrs. Procter's first teaching was in Vallejo Junior College, where she stayed for three years.

Her next move was to San Diego where she secured teaching assignments in the city and county. It was while teaching her first class in creative writing for the Grossmont District in 1955, that Mrs. Procter, with the help of some of her students, formed the La Mesa Writing Club.

The club is still active, with several of its charter members attending meetings. Luther

Few Changes In Mt. Miguel Summer Schedule

This year Mount Miguel's summer session will have a few changes from last year's model.

The biggest change, according to vice-principal Donald Tarr, will be the new world history courses. The course has been split into five classes. In order to get one year's credit, a student must take two of the classes.

The classes will be Current Affairs, taught by Ben Cipriani; World Leaders, taught by Richard Sweet, and Propaganda, taught by Mrs. Cherie Harley. There will also be a class on Latin America as well as a class on World Order.

New courses in the program will include P.E. Skills, with Ned Blass and Dick Ridgeway.

There will also be a change in the art course this summer. "Last summer our art program was so successful we had to add another teacher," said Tarr.

The expanded course will be taught by Roger Moreau, Vince Muzzo and Miss Betty Nichols.

Deadline Nears In Rose Sale

Time is growing shorter, as members of the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club, are selling roses to enhance the club's youth program fund.

Roy Williams, general chairman, warns that June 20 and 21 are the only days you may order the flowers to be delivered on Saturday, June 22.

However, more roses will be delivered on June 29, which gives a person all next week to order. If you are unable to contact any member of the S.V. Kiwanis Club, you may phone Roy Williams at 469-7454 and he will pass the word to the proper members.

Williams said this week that the contest between the two teams is almost neck-and-neck, with the West team slightly edging the East. The roses, which have been grown in Spring Valley hot-houses, will be selling (for a donation) for $3.50 per dozen or $6 for two dozen of miniatures; and $4 per dozen or $7 for two dozen of long stemmed roses.

Guest speaker at the June 12 breakfast-meeting of S.V. Kiwanis, was Harry Masters, Coordinator of the Unified San Diego County Civil Defense and Disaster Organization. He was introduced by Frank Berger, program chairman.

Masters said there is still a lot of work going on in CD and that 13 cities in the county have united to form this strong organization. He said persons should still plan on fallout shelters, and that many of the big stores in downtown San Diego have shelters that are well stocked in case of emergency.

He showed slides depicting the danger of fallout, and urged everyone to do their bit in Civil Defense.

Social Security News

The Lemon Grove Review in Viet Nam after we had presents this question and answer column about the Social Security Program as a public service to our readers. The questions are those most frequently asked about Social Security. The answers are provided by Sumio Ota, El Cajon Social Security District Manager.

Q. Where does the money come from to pay for all of the different types of social security benefits?

A. During working years, employees, their employers, and self-employed people contribute to special social security trust funds. Money is then available so that cash benefits can be paid from these funds to replace part of the earnings an individual or a family loses when the worker retires, becomes disabled, or dies.

Q. When I went to my doctor the other day, he asked me for my Medicare health insurance card. I told him it was in my bank safe-deposit box so that it would be safe. He told me I should always carry it with me. Is that true?

A. Yes, he was correct. You should always have your card with you when you receive services, whether at your doctor's office, hospital or elsewhere. If you should lose your card, the people in the social security office will get you a new one.

Q. My husband and I are both working under social security. We have three young children. I understand that if my husband should die the children could get monthly social security benefits. If I should die, would the children receive anything?

A. Yes. The children could receive monthly benefits on your social security account just the same as they could on your husband's account. This is one of the recent changes in the law.

Q. My husband was killed in Viet Nam after we had been married only seven months. My child by a former marriage was denied social security benefits when I filed last year because I had been married to my second husband less than a year. Does the new law change this?

A. Yes. The new law permits payment to step-children after the marriage has lasted nine months under ordinary circumstances. However, the marriage requirements may be reduced to three months in the case of survivors of a member of the armed forces who dies while serving on active duty. You should contact our office and reapply for benefits for your child.

Q. I am receiving my social security retirement benefit while working part-time. My employer deducts social security tax from my pay. I'm over 65; do I still have to pay the tax?

A. Yes. Your employer is correct in withholding the tax from your earnings. As long as you are working, you continue to pay social security tax, regardless of your age or benefit status.

Q. I receive social security benefits. If I rent out my farm will this income count against the $1680 I am allowed to earn this year and still receive all of my checks?

A. No. If you rent your farm for cash, with no agreement to help produce the crop, it is not counted against your social security benefits. This means it would not count against the $1680, nor would you pay social security tax on this rental income.

If you have further questions regarding the Social Security Law, contact or write the Social Security District Office, 570 N. Second St., El Cajon, California 92021. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and until 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays. The telephone number is 442-0851.

Cabrillo Monument Hours Are Extended

San Diegans and visitors will soon be able to enjoy the beautiful sunset views from Cabrillo National Monument. Superintendent Thomas R. Tucker announced that, beginning June 23, Monument visitation hours will extend from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Firearms Statutes Reviewed

Federal firearms statutes remain in full force for persons possessing firearms or engaging in their transfer, manufacture or importation, Homer O. Croasmun, Internal Revenue Service Regional Commissioner for the Western Region, said.

The recent decision by the U. S. Supreme Court in the Haynes firearms case has been misinterpreted by some firearms dealers and others, as relieving them of the requirements imposed by the National Firearms Act.

In the Haynes case, the Court held that the constitutional privilege against self-incrimination could be invoked against criminal charges brought under the National Firearms Act, for failing to register a firearm or possessing an unregistered firearm.

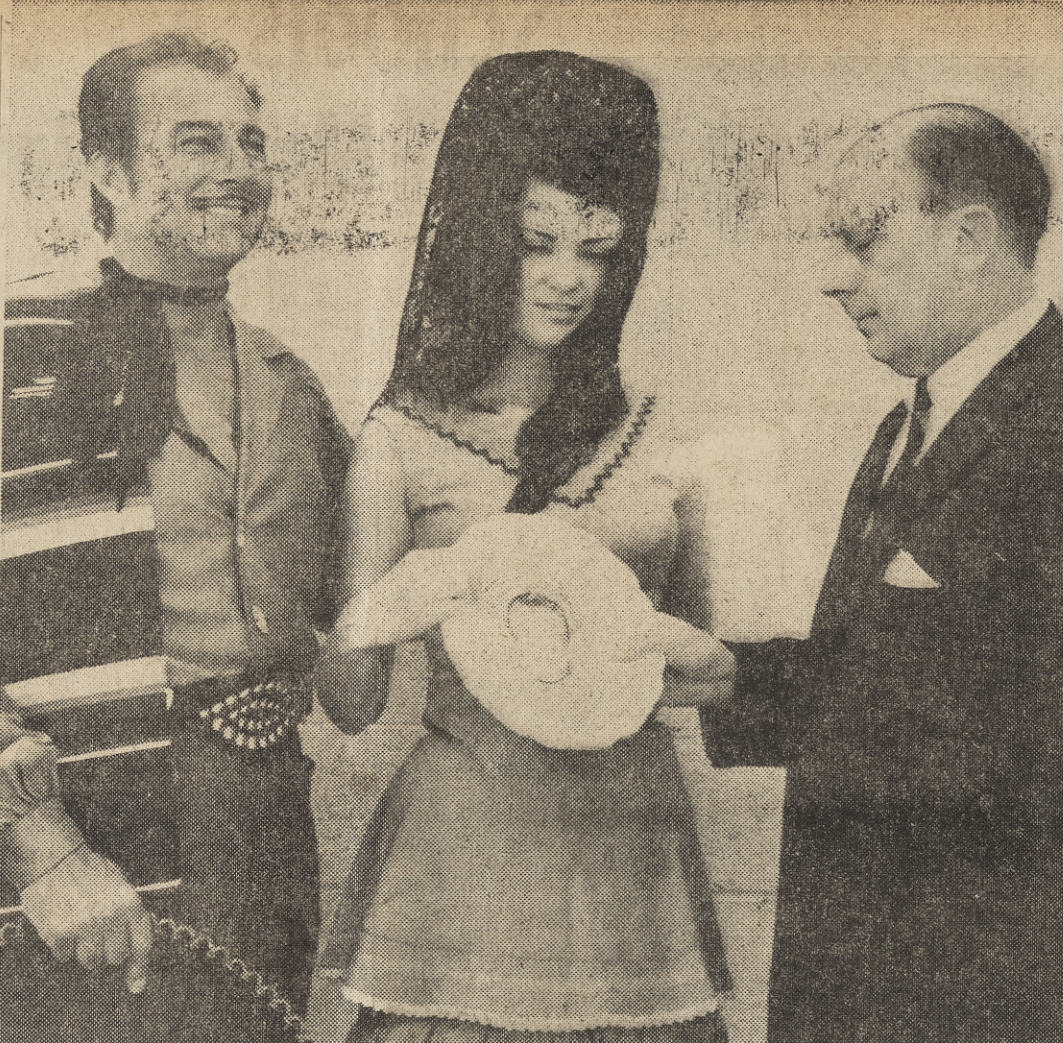

The Supreme Court did not, in its decision, hold the National Firearms Act or any of its provisions to be unconstitutional. Mr. Croasmun pointed out. The underlying objective of the Act is to prevent criminals from obtaining gangster-type weapons such as machine guns and sawed-off shotguns.

Weapons which are covered by the National Firearms Act may be legally acquired and possessed subject to regulatory requirements. However, any such weapon which is not properly registered is contraband and subject to seizure, Mr. Croasmun said.

A person who possesses a gangster-type weapon is still subject to criminal penalties if it was, at any time, illegally made or transferred.

The recordkeeping and reporting obligations imposed on firearms dealers, manufacturers and importers, by the National Firearms Act, have in no way been altered by the Haynes decision. IRS will continue to conduct inspections of records to insure compliance with Federal law.

Occupational, transfer and other taxes imposed by the National Firearms Act remain in full force.

Grove Business Women Bowl Into 4th Week Of Play

The Business Women's League currently active in bowling competition is moving into the fourth week of play.

The eight team league have at it every Tuesday night at 6:30 p.m. at the Brunswick Bowlero Lanes in Lemon Grove.

Currently, high standing honors for the men go to Lawson Willingham with a 244 game and Ken Kunkel with a 608 series. For women, Sharon Smiley holds high standing with a 216 game and 537 series.

A generous contribution from the bowling league is presented to the Business Women's League for gardening maintenance and beautification of the Lemon Grove Plaza along the railroad right of way.

Women of the B.W.L. planted this area twenty years ago, and have since continuously sponsored its maintenance and enlargement.

This is not a tax supported program. Contributions by local business people, various fund raising projects by the Business Women's League, as well as the bowling proceeds have made the Plaza an asset to the community.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Here is a copy of the letter I wrote to Gov. Reagan last week.

Dear Governor:

The Reverend, Frank B. Gigliotti, D.D., I understand because of short-sighted partisanship, has been relieved of his work on the Commission on Youth and Children, of California.

Dr. Gigliotti, as I and many others know that he worked with forethought, purpose and accomplishment in this field, which has been of prime concern to all citizens of the State of California. He has helped the innocent, as I personally know, children and youths of all creeds and beliefs. He has done this without recompense, he has done all of his highly laudable work, tirelessly, at the risk of his own health.

The Youth and Children need a man such as Dr. Gigliotti, the records and accomplishments of this man attest to that. It is disheartening to say the least, that due to the not so slanted ax of partisanship, we will not have the wisdom of this man, in an office so vital now, and much more so in the near future.

Yours truly,
Emel Manu

Editors Note — Dr. Gigliotti said this week that the Governor has called on him several times recently on matters pertaining to youth problems. He said he and the Governor had a very fine rapport.

Dear Sir:

These three, stark, brutal assassinations of American leaders of recent times are deeply resented. The assassins not only snuffed out the lives of these vigorous leaders, but they slashed with stark savagery the wives, children and loved ones. In addition, they be-smirched and desecrated the life of our Nation.

Most Americans have watched with dismay the course of lawlessness in recent years. Part of the responsibility for the rising tide of violence and crime engulfing our Nation must be laid at the feet of political, educational, and religious leaders who have advocated, condoned, promoted and incited civil disobedience.

In addition, the courts who have coddled the criminal while destroying the tools of law enforcement are exposing peaceful law abiding citizens to the depravations of the lawless. This rending of the fabric of law and order must be stopped.

You cannot protect the criminal and retain law and order. You cannot have freedom for nothing. You cannot maintain a Republic without an alerted, informed, dedicated and activated citizenry. You cannot scoff at National heroes and retain patriotism.

You cannot deficit spend yourself rich. You cannot destroy initiative and remain creative. You cannot dirty yourself clean. You cannot usurp constitutional powers and retain constitutional government. You cannot build a life for yourself, your family, your nation, without help from God.

Prayer and faith in God sailed with the Pilgrim fathers on the Mayflower, knelt with George Washington at Valley Forge, crossed the frontiers into California with the Spanish fathers and it is high time we recognize our faith and dependence upon God in our homes, churches, schools, and public life of modern-day California.

With Benjamin Franklin, we might observe that "... if a sparrow cannot fall without God's notice it is hardly likely that we can build a great civilization without His aid."

Dear Editor:

"Blackmail" is an ugly word.

It is a procedure whereby a wrongdoer is forced to pay another to keep his "wrong" a continuing secret — a "nasty" procedure that is and has been disastrously followed since the time of man; the blackmailer, if caught, is charged and prosecuted criminally.

Sit ins, marches, sit outs, picketeers, card burners, mu-tineers, etc., call these and their actions what you will, but if they act in this manner to get something in return — this is outright "Blackmail". It becomes disastrous and felonious when the one or those who accede to these "tantrums" would not, under normal circumstances, give in.

If those of this agitation would of their own accord, bump their heads together or against walls, or jump into sewers or jump overboard (as long as they don't bother their neighbors), I for one, would not complain. But when their actions causes physical injury, the loss of life and property, physical-mental anguish and discomfort — then such action is unwarranted, unAmerican, felonious and if the purpose of such acts is to derive whatever their demands may be — then such behaviors is "Open Blackmail". Such actions should never be tolerated, not peaced nor condoned by any government nor any of its political sub-divisions.

Never in the history of our beloved Country has acts of this type ever been condoned.

I shudder to think what would happen if the law abiding, together, should ever resist such overt acts.

The San Miguel PTA wishes to thank you and your staff for the fine news coverage extended to us this year. This has done much to insure the success of activities, and we are grateful to be able to reach so many homes in the community.

Dear Editor:

At a recent conference in New York on the riots across the country, one fact — above all — stood out.

The average male arrested in the riots was under 18 years of age and from a Broken Home.

We hear much of the "Long Hot Summer" that is around the corner across the country. In San Diego, over 5,617 boy members in the three Boys' Clubs of San Diego (942 from Broken Homes) look forward to fun, excitement, and adventure under trained leadership. They know of the exhilaration of a cool indoor pool for Swimming; the excitement of competitive Athletics; the fun of Crafts; Games of all description, plus the Campfire under the soft dark sky... sizzling of the good old Hot Dogs!!!

These boys come from the areas of our City that are most in need of Boys' Club services — Logan Heights, Linda Vista, and Clairemont.

We've been providing these activities for 26 summers. We hope, with your help, to continue to provide them... instilling the basic tenets of Patriotism, Fair Play, Honesty, and Sportsmanship.

Will you join with us — now?

Private funds (not government funds) provide the sources for our continued work in San Diego... funds from persons like yourself, United Crusade, and the efforts of our Board of Trustees.

As an Adult Member of the Boys' Clubs of San Diego, you will be walking with the best people in San Diego — beside the future citizens of our City — over 5,617 boys, who say THANKS for caring.

Dear Editor:

Another flawless day, another year, another enjoyable parade, another starting on time — the only parade I have ever watched which consistently does this.

There is always a nostalgia connected with parades even when remembered parades are of an entirely different area of our beautiful country.

And there are always little "hear tuggers" which bring a lump to your throat or a tear-y smile.

At Imperial and Broadway a small black dog had every one gasping each time he darted out after someone else hoping it was the one he was seeking. He didn't stop looking even when the parade started. I hope whoever lost the little fellow found him.

Wee baton twirlers who had to run to keep up with the slightly larger group brought sympathetic smiles.

For most of the parade there was some traffic problem in this area as no one had stopped the cars coming through. Some tried to back up or turn around but that didn't help as the crowd was too large.

The beautiful horses never cease to thrill this Easterner. I could go on and on about the enjoyment, the pride, the man "good" feelings aroused, the always gulping beauty of our flag blowing in the wind, the bands (we could have used more in a few places) I'm sorry it will be another year before such a parade.

Member, Incentive Tax Committee

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Property taxes are too high. We recommend that property taxes be separated into two parts: one part for land — and one for improvements.

Low appraisals on land encourages poor use and creates a higher tax on improvements. Archie V. Gerard Despite marginal visibility, mountainous terrain and intense enemy ground fire, he delivered his ordnance with unerring accuracy, neutralizing four mortar positions.

His aggressive attack saved many lives and prevented the enemy from overrunning the friendly positions.

Australia's Schools Are Different

Editors note: Sue Papike, 17 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Papike, 10624 Buena Vista rd., Spring Valley is spending a year in Australia under the auspices of the American Field Service. This newspaper will provide to you, through the cooperation of Mr. and Mrs. Papike detailed reports of her experiences as an exchange student.

by Sue Papike

School here is quite different. We catch the bus at 8 a.m. and we don't get home until 5 p.m., so it makes it a real long day. There is very little oral work. It is mostly assignments that are required.

There are 8 periods per day and at the matriculation level you take 5 classes and have 3 periods of private study.

The whole purpose of 6th form is to prepare the student for their matriculation examination; it doesn't matter how good you do all year — if you don't pass Matric you fail for the year.

The schools are trying to get away from this system so that more students will be induced to stay in school. Most students leave when they are 15 years old.

The Australians are very much like the Americans. I haven't been asked any questions about Civil Rights or Vietnam or any other controversial questions.

They ask about fashions and of our legal driving age. I receive many farming questions, but being from the city I have to tell them my knowledge of farming is nil—but I am learning.

Recently we have been driving all the ewes out along the road to graze. The pastures are bare. Watching the sheep dogs work is enjoyable. They are really something. The dog that works for me is called patches, and he really keeps the sheep together.

First Wild Kangaroo

Did I tell you I finally got to see my first wild kangaroo? We were riding our horses along the road about dusk and three of them hopped across the road in front of us.

For three days I have been getting up at 5 a.m. and going to the bush to try and see them. I had luck tonight.

Our phone is different! The one that we have here, has to be cranked. The first time that I saw it, I thought of home and how much it would be prized as an antique.

There is a swimming team here in Colac and I have been asked to join. They work out after school and I don't think I will be able to make any of the work out. I have no way home if I miss the last bus.

We are having swimming competitions this Friday and the coach has entered me in freestyle, the butterfly freestyle relay and would you believe a 200 individual medley — I don't think I will make it through the afternoon. I am really out of shape.

All of the Victoria AFS students went to Melbourne to a Lord Mayor's reception for Mr. Arthur Howe, the president of AFS. It was a wonderful affair.

We toasted the Queen and President Johnson, and Mr. Howe made a very good speech. I met him later and he is really great.

One of the things about these AFS functions is that they really get you fired up on the speeches that you have to make. I am still nervous about my first one, but the slides that I have of San Diego and the vicinity will help.

You are not allowed to wear any jewelry at school. The Head Mistress at school has said nothing about my pierced earrings that I wear.

We can not wear any make up. They have no social school functions here except three dances a year. Everything here at school is deep in tradition and sometimes it really frustrates me.

In the swimming meet I was telling you about, I scored a 1st place in Butterfly, 1st in freestyle, and our house team got a 1st in the freestyle relay but as predicted—I died in the 200 Ind. Medley.

I was doing fine up until the first 50 and after that I just didn't have it so third it was. We will go down to Melbourne later in the month for the all Victoria High School Swim Finals.

Weekend Retreat

What a wonderful time I had this past weekend. A group of us went on a retreat up to the Grampian Mountains at a Methodist Youth Camp. I met many wonderful kids.

One night I didn't get in to bed until 4 a.m. I talked a group of girls in my dorm to sneak out and hike to a dam about 2 miles away. We got to laughing and giggling so much, that we got caught. No one here can seem to say Papike, so they all just call me Yank. The Grampian Mountains are really beautiful, the scenery was so lovely. I hope that we get to go again.

Last week the Matric class gave me a surprise birthday party. Wow — was it ever great, you should have seen all the food! They gave me a stuffed Koala Bear and a Kangaroo fur purse.

The next day they had a candy sale to raise money for my trip to Tasmania next month. Everyone here is so great to me, you can't believe how warm and friendly they are.

I have made so many really fine friends. I really can't assess my time here yet, I only know that I am so thankful I have been afforded this opportunity. I love Australia.

Swim Finals

Went down to Melbourne over the weekend for the State Swim Finals and our school relay team won a third place medal. This is really great swimming country. The pool was just packed with spectators.

Each tie that I go down to Melbourne I stay with Paul Goddard's parents. They are just like a second family to me over here. We talk about San Diego a lot, and they are wondering how he likes the school at Kearny High.

He will be home from San Diego in August and then he and I will have lots of things to talk about as he will know all the latest that has happened there back home.

We have taken lots of side trips since I have been over here. One weekend we went down to see Dad's sister. She lives in Portland near a lovely volcanic lake, another time we went to see Mum's mother who lives in the southern part of the state.

I went swimming in the ocean, but not for long as I noticed there were bells ringing and people yelling on the beach. When I came ashore I found out that a shark had been out there swimming around while I was in the water.

Next weekend all of the AFS students in Victoria go to Tasmania for ten days. This is a trip I am really looking forward to. It is supposed to be a lovely island and we go over by ocean liner.

Also I am looking forward to seeing all the other AFSers who are all real close now and it is fun comparing notes on our different lives with our families.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

A new summer Spanish class for beginners starts tonight and our readers are invited. Class will be held each Thursday evening in the General Dynamics Recreation Center at Kearny Mesa (off highway 395 next to the big missile) at 7 p.m. For additional information or directions, call 277-8900, ext. 1111.

The class will stress basic conversation during the eight weekly meetings. Special attention will be given in the practical approach to learning the language.

Students and family groups of all ages will have the opportunity to learn Spanish travel phrases, household expressions, and general purpose expressions. This type of course is designed to advance the learning of Spanish in an informal atmosphere. Students participate in simple oral expressions within the first class.

The projected Spain tour (August 10-25) will be outlined for interested students. Pictures of Spain and Mexico will be shown during the course. Typical conversation used while traveling within those countries will be covered.

Class participants will use the phrases that appear in this column as one of the guides to instruction. More detailed information and instruction regarding these phrases and words will be given in the classroom.

Students may practice these phrases on their home telephone when they dial 27-2762. A recorded voice will be heard when they dial this number.

The voice will say each word separately allowing a pause for the student to say the same word. Then the voice will say each phrase and pause for the student to say it. It is an easy way to learn Spanish. Why don't you try it now.

Robert Babb's Poem Published

Robert Babb, an eighth grade student at Lemon Grove Junior High, is the author of the poem, "Birds", which appeared in the May issue of "Read", a national magazine for reading and English used in many schools throughout the United States.

Birds

Birds are forever
Warbling
Chattering
Squawking
And squabbling among
One another,
Diving,
Soaring,
Swooping,
Gliding up and down,
Pulling at worms,
Diving at rabbits,
Swooping at fish,
Pecking at beetles,
Or maybe eating
A tasty raspberry
Or two.

A Grossmont Union High School District Special Education program teacher, Donald J. McDonald has been cited by the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped for his outstanding work and contribution to the citizens of this area.

McDonald, Work Education teacher in the program for the Educable Mentally Retarded in the District was nominated by the Vocation Rehabilitation Services for the award.

The teacher received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Exceptional Children from Buffalo State Teachers' College in January of 1961.

He received his Master of Science degree in rehabilitation counseling from the University of Buffalo in June, 1964. He is currently doing post master's degree graduate work at San Diego State College.

Before coming to the Grossmont District Special Education Programs section, he worked as a counselor for the California Department of Rehabilitation in San Diego.

From 1960-62, he was a special education teacher in North Tonawanda, New York, after his service in the U.S. Navy during 1954-58.

He resides at 6935 Maury dr., San Diego, with his wife, Arlene, and two children, Tim aged 8 and Kim aged 5.

According to Nicholas S. Mallek, Director Special Education Programs for the Grossmont Union High School District, "Mr. McDonald has epitomized the innovation and determination in meeting the challenge of employment for the handicapped."

His knowledge and command of respect of employers in the community has certainly paved the way for profitable and meaningful experiences for the handicapped of our community.

He has made an exceptional contribution to the objectives outlined by the Governor's Committee and lives by the slogan that it is ability that counts — not disability."

Mr. McDonald developed a program for the mentally retarded and physically handicapped and with his knowledge, industry, and ability to work with other people, has made this program a model for cooperative rehabilitation programs in the state.

He has also given valuable assistance to a special project under M.D.T.A. (Manpower Development Training Act), sponsored by the local San Diego Association for Retarded Children.

As a consultant to this special project he screened all of the 70 candidates and aided in their training and placement.

This project was extremely successful. Nearly 100% of the first group of 35 were placed and the majority of the second group were helped into remunerative employment.

In addition, Mr. McDonald was responsible for the implementation of the San Diego County OMAT San Diego Laundry Project and began developing relationships for placement of the mentally retarded in federal agencies.

According to Mallek, "He has earned a reputation in the community for his skill and knowledge in the rehabilitation of the mentally retarded and physically handicapped. He is much in demand by community agencies for consultant services and is well known in all of the school districts. He is president-elect of the local National Rehabilitation Association and was recently selected to participate in the summer session at California-Western University in their symposium on mental retardation. We are extremely proud, as a District, to have Mr. McDonald as an employee servicing this community."

A 23-month old Lemon Grove boy is in fair condition at Grossmont Hospital as the result of being hit by an automobile near his home.

The baby, Stephen Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nicholson, 7228 Waite dr., Lemon Grove, was taken to the hospital with head injuries after he ran out in front of an auto driven by George A. Vejar, 25, of 3817 King st., Lemon Grove.

Sports Review

San Diego State College Sure Knows The Way

It is a pleasure to see athletic teams in the San Diego area make big in the national light. The San Diego State Aztecs for example came home with three national championships, four league titles along with being top dogs in numerous tournaments and compiling a 67% win margin of dual-matches during the past season.

Starting off the year on the right foot was Coach Don Coryell's football team. The gridgers won nine games to run their unbeaten string to 25 straight before Utah State dumped them in the season's closing game.

They closed the season with a win in the Camillia Bowl to give them a 10-1 record, the National Collegiate Athletic Association College Division Championship and the California Collegiate Athletic Association title.

The Cross country team took the NCAA College Division crown for the third straight time. Coach Tony Sueco's athletes were also first in the CCAA. They closed out the season early in the fall.

The basketball team kept the name of San Diego State College on the tips of the tongue when they marched to take the tightest CCAA hoop race ever to be staged. The club won 21 games including 13 in conference play.

The Aztecs hosted the NCAA Pacific Coast Regional Tournament and were upset in the first round by the University of California at Irvine. All in all they closed out the season with a 21-6 slate.

The volleyball team rounded out the national championships won by the Aztecs as they completed a perfect season of play. They won six dual-matches for the season record, the league title and three tournaments including the national title.

The swimming team closed out with a 6-0 record in CCAA play while they compiled a 9-1 overall record. They took part in the NCAA championships. The baseball team closed out with a 32-20 overall and a 13-8 record in league play.

The golf team had a 24-5 overall and a 10-23 slate for league action. They placed in the conference championship meet. Track and Field teams compiled a 6-4 record for overall play while the gymnasts had an 8-4 record.

It is interesting to look at the overall record of all teams in athletic competition during the past year. They won 146 while dropping 71. There were 12 teams in league competition during the year.

Of the twelve, four national titles were stacked up, one placed second in the nation, four were third and only three finished in second division standings.

Tony Salmon and John Sturgeon, both seniors at Helix High, were selected for third team honors. Salmon, an infielder, had a .304 average while Sturgeon compiled a 7-3 record from the mound.

Mike Harrison of Hoover High School was named as "Player of the Year". Harrison, a senior, racked up a 14-3 pitching record for season play.

Monte Vista High Sports Projection

by Scott McGaugh

Monte Vista will be represented this summer with a basketball team which will be mainly comprised of Monarch roundballers.

Felix Rogers will coach the team which will play Mondays and Wednesdays at the Federal Gymnasium in Balboa Park.

In their first game of the summer last Monday, the Monarchs lost a tough one to a strong Hoover team.

Although their defense was strong, the Monarchs came out on the short end of the stick through lack of height. The Monarchs' tallest man is around six feet two inches while Hoover had players over six feet five.

Roger Sommers and Jim Bristol did well for the Monarchs. Next year's season for roundballer fans should prove to be an exciting one for Monte Vista.

"Our weakest point will be inexperience," said coach Rogers. "But our aggressiveness and good hustle ought to make it up." Rogers said that Roger Sommers and Ernie Arroyo will be expected to lead the team next year.

Last fall the Monarchs finished in third place in the Grossmont league with a 9-5 record. The Monarchs won nine of their last eleven games. However, in their first start in the CIF play-offs, the Monarchs lost to Madison.

Roger Landis, named to an All-League guard position, and Jim Wescott, were team leaders for the Monarchs. "I was very pleased," said coach Rogers.

The summer league is sponsored by the Recreational Department. Monte Vista is connected only in that the Monarch's coach and players will participate this summer.

Coach Rogers rated Helix and Mount Miguel as 1-2 in the battle next year for the Grossmont basketball crown. Clearly Monte Vista ought to be right in the thick of it.

What Happens To Tax Forms After April 15

Now that it's after April 15 and the mail bags have been emptied, what goes on behind those doors at the Internal Revenue Service? The local IRS Chief, F. S. Schmidt, has now revealed some interesting facts about the year-round audit program.

Schmidt whose official title is District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Los Angeles District, is the headman of this IRS Office which covers the twelve Southern Counties of California.

In explaining the nation-wide audit program, Schmidt said that the prime objective of the IRS' enforcement activities is to ensure that each taxpayer's tax liability is correctly established and that all taxes due are paid.

The confidence of the American citizen in the Federal tax structure and his acceptance of our self-assessment system is largely dependent on the Service's ability to achieve this objective.

Last year over 3.1 million returns were audited, that is, the taxpayers were asked to produce records, supply more information or otherwise back up items on their tax returns.

Many were able to do this by mail. Others visited IRS offices. In some instances, they were visited in their home or place of business by a tax agent.

The detailed examination of these returns revealed that taxpayers had overpaid as well as underpaid their tax. Over $190 million was paid back to taxpayers who had made errors in interpreting the law.

How Are Tax Returns Selected for Audit?

Generally speaking, the selection of returns for audit is based upon carefully developed criteria designed to identify those returns where the greatest chance of error exists.

In addition, some returns are selected at random so that no class of returns is assured of exemption from audit.

Another basis for selection of returns for audit has to do with the size and nature of itemized deductions. If particularly large amounts are claimed in deductions or there are other items which appear to need verification, then the return may be selected for audit.

On most of these returns, IRS wants to make sure that the taxpayer actually made the contributions he claims, or paid the doctor's bills, or suffered the casualty loss he said he did.

Good records — cancelled checks, paid bills and receipts — will usually lead to the acceptance of the return as filed.

In some cases, however, it is not a question of whether the bill was actually paid but whether the expense was deductible under the law.

It should be kept in mind that IRS does not make the law but is responsible for administering it as passed by Congress. Surprisingly few of the returns audited each year lead to disputes that cannot be settled without going to court.

Only about 7,000 cases or less than one-fourth of 1 per cent of the 3.1 million returns audited, reach the court stage.

Europe's auto sales are increasing.

GREAT VIEW — Cindy Davis, a Spring Valley beauty, joins Emil Karas Charger promotional director and Jeff Staggs, a Charger linebacker as the trio take part in the Chargers first Stadium Sit In. Object was to acquaint football fans with this season's players, the pressroom, the dressing rooms, the new scoreboard, and, of course, Miss Davis. Admission was free and fans had a chance to choose seats for the coming season. More than 250 fans acquired season tickets and business manager Irv Kaze said he was "delighted" with the 5,780 turnout — and the way season tickets are being gobbled up. "Order 'em early and get the seats of your choice," he admonished following the Friday Seat-In.

VD Mounts To Record Total In S.D. County

The San Diego Department of Public Health has reported that VD in San Diego County is continuing its upward trend. The proportion of VD cases among teen-agers also appears to be rising.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said that 1,741 cases of gonorrhea were reported in the county in 1967, the highest number on record. The highest previous peak occurred during World War Two in 1944 when 1,338 cases of gonorrhea were reported.

In the first three months of 1968, Dr. Askew said reported cases of gonorrhea in San Diego continued the upward trend.

A total of 441 cases of gonorrhea were reported in the county in January, February, and March of this year, up 22 per cent from the 361 cases reported during the same period in 1967.

The proportion of cases of gonorrhea among teen-agers rose from one out of every four reported cases of gonorrhea during the year 1967 to about one out of three in the first three months of 1968.

Of the 441 cases of gonorrhea reported in the county in the first quarter of 1968, a total of 132, or 30 percent, occurred in teen-agers.

Dr. Askew said that according to a study by the American Social Health Association only one-fifth to one-tenth of the cases of gonorrhea that occur are reported to health departments.

"This would mean that last year, something closer to 8,700 to 17,000 cases of gonorrhea actually occurred in San Diego County," Dr. Askew said. "It would also mean that some 400 cases of gonorrhea may be occurring among San Diego County teen-agers every month."

He added that one of the answers to the problem among teen-agers is more VD education at the junior and senior high school level.

New School Set For Encanto

Working drawings are under preparation for an addition to the Encanto Elementary School located at 65th and Wunderlin avenues.

Both the addition and a master plan for the site are from the office of Ferris and Brewer, Architects Incorporated, of San Diego. They are being prepared for the San Diego Unified School District as part of the 1966 bond issue commitments.

Construction will include two buildings, each two stories high containing 21 classrooms, an educational service unit and auxiliary spaces as well as corridors and a learning center.

The latter will include multiple space provisions with library facilities, a science demonstration area, storage for audio-visual aids such as maps, various projectors and tape and record players.

The learning center space will be flexible in allowing for rearrangement of equipment and will be intended for use by several groups of students at one time.

Construction is expected to begin in October. Completion of construction is anticipated before September 1969. Cost of the project is in excess of half a million dollars.

Office Classes Set for Miguel

An evening training class in Typewriter and Small Office Machine Repair is offered at Mt. Miguel High School, 5:30-9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Persons interested in enrolling in this course should have mechanical ability, a certain amount of problem-solving skill and be interested in a career of typewriting and/or office machine repair.

For information call Mt. Miguel Adult office 439-6169 afternoons or evenings.

Political Roundup

After the somber period of mourning for Senator Robert F. Kennedy ended, Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, put his campaign back into high gear last week.

First the Governor flew to Meadville, Pa., to address the commencement of Allegheny College. Then he went on to Washington where he was briefed on the international situation by President Johnson before speaking to the National Press Club.

He told the Washington correspondents of most of the nation's big newspapers and television networks that the "Old Politics" must end and that the nation was crying out for a "New Leadership toward a New America."

While in Washington he paid a solemn, private visit to Senator Kennedy's grave in Arlington Cemetery.

As the Governor flew on to California for more campaigning, a nationwide television network was broadcasting his appeal to the Republican convention delegates and to the nation as a whole.

At the week's end, the Rockefeller campaign had moved to California where the Governor was mobbed by excited, happy children in the slum-ridden, tense Watts section of Los Angeles.

On the invitation of a student he gave a high school class a lecture on government. Then, with the cheers of Watts still ringing in his ears, he spoke on foreign policy to a Los Angeles audience and discussed riots in the nation's cities before the Commonwealth.
